TALENT WATCH

First, her paintings and lacquer furniture finishes garnered the attention; now, it's her fabrics. At the most recent High Point market, Bradley Hughes showcased Atlantan HEIDI PIERCE's latest wares, including her pillows and ombré silk curtain panels, dazzling buyers from around the country. The modern elegance of Pierce's designs merges the spirit of Hollywood Regency (sans the clichés) with the élan of classic Atlanta style. idartistry.com

PERSONAL TOUCH

His presence on the local design scene is no secret, but as of late, RAY GOINS' elegant, handcrafted furniture has gained the attention of New York's design elite, as well as the style and design blogosphere, including decorati.com. We're particularly star-struck by one of the most recent introductions that has come out of his Peachtree Road atelier: the Namey Field Trestle Table. (678) 281-0559, rlgoins.com

SENSATIONAL STYLE

You may not know his name, but you've more than likely seen the work of MARK SAGE in some of Atlanta's most stylish homes. With an ever-expanding collection of Belgian-inspired furniture and antique European-style reproductions, Sage has single-handedly introduced a new design aesthetic not only to Atlanta, but to the entire country. His company, Bobo Intriguing Objects, is a favorite of the design community; pieces have been featured in almost every U.S. and international home design magazine. bobointriguingobjects.com

DELICIOUS TODDLERS

The culinary creativity of chefs ANNE QUATRANO and CLIFFORD HARRISON is no more evident than at their latest creation, Abattoir at White Provision. We're smitten with the food and its presentation (think foie gras served in canning jars), but we're gaga over the Dominique Coyne-designed interiors. (404) 892-3335, starprovisions.com

A NEW TAKE

Artist GREGOR TURK's recent foray into functional objects has been met with as much aplomb as his notable fine art pieces, which includes the dynamic ceramic installation titled Series X. gregorturk.com

UNDER THE RADAR

KnollStudio is known for its collection of enduring furniture designs, but an exciting new development at the company has been UNDER THE RADAR. Just recently, the company launched Knoll Kids, which features mid-century classics scaled for a younger generation. So cute! (404) 522-1835, knoll.com
